

New Knowledge and Vocabulary

Password	A secret code to protect information. These should be 'strong' so information isn't taken.
Online community	Groups of people (they could be friends and family) who talk online. It can be a great place to share information but we must be careful about what we share and who we share it with.
Advertising	Adverts are placed online to persuade us to buy things. It is important to know what an advert looks like and which could be fake.
Respect online	When communicating with other people online, it is important to be kind and also report and communication which isn't kind .
Email	An email is a message sent online. It is important to know how the email should be written.

Because, but, (therefore)...

Passwords should be strong because...

Passwords should be strong but...

Many passwords are not strong enough and are not protected

Some online games have adverts. Some of these might encourage you to spend money or watch extra adverts.

Application of knowledge

Use password strength checkers to try different types of passwords.

Create information posters with advice about being respectful online and how to communicate.

Send an email with the correct level of formality.